SPECIAL ISSUE

It appears that it is very easy to violate the law and to carry out corrupt activities in BiH without ever being held responsible. This is roughly conclusion of the Justica from Srebrenik, which has on behalf of the ACCOUNT Network conducted monitoring of the public procurement system through which two million BAM is stolen every year in our country. Damir Šabanić, representative of the Association, talked for the interview.ba about the mentality that has enabled it and the fact that judiciary is not interested to prosecute this much crime. The International Anti-Corruption Day marked with film, comics and a discussion about "Pandora" affair

The TV Žurnal film "Pandora's box" was shown and the exhibition of the comics "Businessmen patriots" was opened in Sarajevo, Mostar and Banja Luka as part of the activities conducted to mark the Corruption Awareness Week. The film and the comics show how billions of BiH citizens' convertible marks were drawn out through the Indirect Taxation Administration. The author of the film, Davor Obrdalj, director of the Anti-corruption Network ACCOUNT, Eldin Karić and author of the comics Boris Stapić participated in the discussion after the screening of the film. "The indictment was raised after TV Žurnal broadcasted the film. I would say it is a shameful indictment since only three persons were charged. Sedinet Karić has bought his freedom and he is a free man now. I believe the same will happen with Kemal Čaušević. The case involved around two billion of Convertible Marks that they took from us, that being 4 million of average pensions. Just imagine what could have been done with the two million Convertible Marks", said Davor Obrdalj, author of the film. Eldin Karić said that BiH does not deserve to mark the International Anti-Corruption Day because people who were convicted are performing public duties today without any problem. "It has become normal in this society. The main cause is the judiciary that is doing its job. Unfortunately, it is unlikely that anyone will be held responsible for this", said Karić

Maureen Cormack,
Ambassador of the United States to BiH

"I appreciate the work that the ACCOUNT and Transparency International have done and will continue to do in this area, and the U.S. Government will continue supporting BiH in these efforts. We support efforts of the civil society within the government institutions in developing strong, transparent mechanisms to improve the legal framework of BiH for prevention of corruption and to provide support and to protect the citizens who come forward and report corruption in public sector. Suppression and prevention of corruption is of paramount importance for the BiH to be a stable, and prosperous country that provides equal opportunities to all of its citizens" – said Maureen Cormack, the U.S. Ambassador to BiH. In her speech at the regional conference organized to mark the International Anti-Corruption Day Ambassador added that she is proud of the progress BiH has made in some areas over the year.

First Anti-Corruption Forum of municipalities and cities in BiH held

The first Anti-Corruption Forum of municipalities and cities in BiH that was organized by the Foundation INFOHOUSE as part of the Anti-Corruption Network in BiH – ACCOUNT, has served the mayors and the representatives of local communities in BiH to exchange experience concerning the fight against corruption. A Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the ACCOUNT and municipality Domaljevac – Šamac. Mayor Mario Jurkić stressed that he is very happy to be part of this project. “In my mandate we still didn't have a single report of corrupt activities and we hope it will change in the forthcoming period”, said Mario Jurkić, mayor of municipality Domaljevac – Šamac.

Director of INFOHOUSE, Dženana Alađuz, said that the work in local communities is the most important one in the very complex process of fight against corruption. “Our experience has showed that the citizens can feel highest benefit, but also harm from their local community. Therefore it is exceptionally important to have the municipalities and the cities doing everything possible to prevent the corruption within their own ranks, and beyond. So far we have signed memorandum of understanding with 27 municipalities, and today we have signed it with 28th municipality, with Domaljevac. We are glad that the municipalities are ready to cooperate, and that they are committed to combat corruption. Our task is to see that the fight doesn't become only a dead letter. We are constantly conducting monitoring and the results will be presented very soon. Our future steps depend on these results” - said Dženana Alađuz, director of Foundation INFOHOUSE. The forum was organized with the support of the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID/BiH.)
